

Thesis Abstract

Thesis Subject: The collective juristic rules at the Malikiyah from chapter of "Istehqaq" to end the chapter Of "Luqata".

Degree: Master.

Thesis Idea: Collect and study this part.

Purpose Of The Study: Collect and study Al-Kuliyat Al-Fiqhiyah (the collective rules of jurisprudence at the Malikiyah). From the chapter of "Istehqaq" to end the chapter Of "Luqata".

Thesis Subject: Al-Kuliyat Al-Fiqhiyah (the collective rules of jurisprudence at the Malikiyah).

The thesis is summarized in two aspects:

First: The theoretical aspect; including a detailed study concerning The jurisprudence comprehensiveness and comparing it with the other types of jurisprudence fundamentals in addition to mentioning the sources of the jurisprudence comprehensive items resources according to the main Four Jurisprudence doctrines.

Second : The application study The thesis deals with fifty nine jurisprudence comprehensive domains From the first Chapter Of "Istehqaq" to end the chapter Of "Luqata" or peace treaties by means of mentioning evidences of jurisprudence comprehensive domains beside its exceptional texts and extracts with its main outlined meaning and mentioning some applications so as for the reader can grasp the whole situation

It was found through the research on the subject of Al-Kuliyat Al-Fiqhiyah (the collective rules of jurisprudence at the Malikiyah). the following:

The most important results:

- ١- The importance of the Maliki doctrine in the history of Islam; as with other schools of thought.
- ٢- the accuracy of the Maliki doctrine, especially in transactions.
- ٣- The jurisprudential a pattern of jurisprudential escalation.
Expansion of the Maalikis in the maturity and making of the Ijara and the donation and lending.

Recommendations:

- ١- Studying the jurisprudential to benefit the most possible students .
- ٢- Care and expansion of the study jurisprudential jurisprudence that it is hard for the researcher to stand on the sources of fundamentalism talk about jurisprudence.
- ٣- To expand the study of the applications of faculties so as to study comparative jurisprudence.
- ٤- To carry out the investigation of the books that dealt with the collection of jurisprudence and its care.

Student: ABRAR AHMAD MOHAMMAD HUSAIN